MARX WAS RIGHT

Revolution Festival is a three-day festival of Marxist ideas, hosted by Socialist Appeal, taking place in London between 21-23 October.

With a range of fascinating talks on current events, history, and essential Marxist theory, this year's festival will be our biggest in-person event to date.

Hopes of recovery following the pandemic have been dashed. Supply chain disruptions, labour shortages, and the Ukraine war are driving inflation to levels not seen in decades. General strikes and insurrectionary movements are cropping up all over the world, from Ecuador to Sri Lanka.

In Britain, a chasm has formed between the classes. While the ruling class continues to pocket immense profits, austerity is being forced onto the masses to make them pay for the crisis.

The working class is flexing its muscles. This year has already seen some of the largest strike actions for decades.

All of this is happening now, and if we are to change the world, we must first understand it. This is the essence of revolutionary Marxism. These are the ideas that can unite the struggle and deal a decisive blow against capitalism.

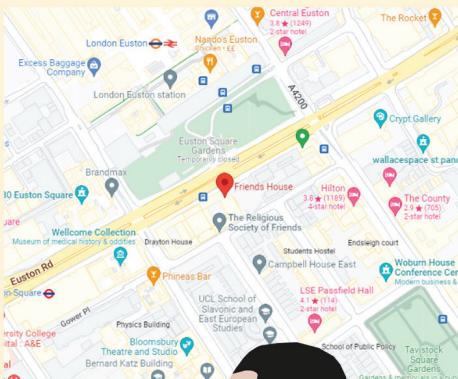

Marx was right. Capitalism must be overthrown. To do this, we need to get organised, and arm ourselves with revolutionary ideas.

So buy your ticket now for this exciting and inspiring festival – and join the revolution!

Sessions will take place in the main hall (The Light), and various break-out rooms which will be signposted on the day. The venue and all rooms are fully accessible.

Registration and tickets will be available in all rooms. Books and merchandise will be available for sale in the main hall foyer throughout the weekend.

Nearest stations are: Euston Square (Circle line, Hammersmith & City line, Metropolitan line), Euston Station (National Rail, Northern line, Victoria line), Russell Square (Piccadilly line), and Kings Cross & St Pancras International.
